Commissioners Face Court Suit On Registration

The Pickaway County Commissioners face possible court action if they don't cough up funds for county-wide voter registration in the next day or so.

Yesterday Judge William Ammer ruled that the Board of Elections will need approximately $12,000 to conduct voter registration. The Board of Elections was represented by Tom A. Renick at the hearing.

According to state law, the commissioners "shall" appropriate the money if the court finds it necessary.

Renick said today that unless the commissioners appropriate the money within the next day or so, he will file a writ of mandamus asking the court to force the appropriation. He said the writ may even be filed today.

Yesterday the commissioners hired Robert H. Huffer to represent them in case of court action.

Time is running out. Registration must be completed by September 28, if it is to be effective for the November election.

RENICK said today that the commissioners need not appropriate all the $12,000 needed to conduct registration at this time. He said only $4,000 is necessary right now.

It would pay for wages of elections board workers who conduct the registration. The balance of the money could be paid after the first of the year, he said.

On July 5, after a written request for the funds from the elections board, a motion was made during the commissioners' meeting to grant the elections board request. The motion, by Wayne Hines, died for the want of a second.

Election board officials said the decision to ask for the voter registration appropriation is due to the vote buying scandal exposed by The Herald, as a result of the May 1958 primary election. No convictions resulted, but the public as well as the elections board was made aware of its existence.

Another factor is the heavy influx of trailer courts in the northern part of the county. Board members say registration is needed there to establish positive residence of trailer court voters.

GOP board members feel this presidential election year is the best time to start registration because more people will want to vote and will make the effort to register.

Another State May Secede In Africa

PARIS (AP) — Modibo Keita, premier of the Mali Federation has appealed for immediate U.N. help to block secession of the West African state of Senegal from the infant federation.

The appeal, sent through President Sekou Toure of Guinea, accused France of failing to provide troops to preserve the union of Senegal and the former French Sudan. Keita, who is also premier of Sudan, called for an emergency meeting of the Security Council. Word of Keita's appeal was relayed by a Soviet correspondent in Guinea and broadcast by Moscow radio. U.N. headquarters in New York said that up to Monday night it had not received any direct request for U.N. action.

Premier Mamadou Dia of Senegal, who was also vice premier of the Mali Federation, proclaimed Senegal's independence from the federation Friday after a struggle for power with Keita.

The latter, seeking to consolidate his power before the presidential election, had dismissed Dia from the vice premiership. But with Dakar the capital of both the federation and Senegal, police and troops in the port city were loyal to the Senegal premier. Keita was put under house arrest and then sent off to the neighboring Sudan by train.

Dia was expected in Paris today to talk with President Charles de Gaulle about the rupture. De Gaulle also invited Keita, but there was no word he would come.

Spunky's Pal Gets Blame for Holdup

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) — A cab driver was robbed of $20 during the night and law officers are speculating that the culprit might have been Bob Johnson, 22, pal of Gordon (Spunky) Firman.

Wayne De Lauder, of Wellsville, picked up a fare at the edge of East Liverpool early today and was told to drive to Wellsville. Later he was told to double back to get Johnson out of the Coschott County Jail. The pair was believed to have committed a night club holdup in Steubenville early Monday.

Herman Wellman, Columbiana County deputy, said the robber's description sounded like that of Johnson. He and Firman have been hunted in eastern Ohio since last Wednesday night, when Firman used the threat of gunfire to get Johnson out of the Coschott County Jail. The pair was believed to have committed a night club holdup in Steubenville early Monday.

Musical Lyric Composer Dies

Oscar Hammerstein Is Killed by Cancer

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Oscar Hammerstein II, whose magic lyrics have brought laughter and tears to Americans for 40 years, died of stomach cancer today at the age of 65.

His death at his beloved country home of Highland Farms, far from the glitter of Broadway, ended one of the brightest careers in theatrical history.

The big gentle man who penned the words of such songs as "O Man River," "Who?" "The Last Time I Saw Paris," "When I Grow Too Old to Dream," "Only Make Believe," "Some Enchanted Evening" and "June Is Bustin' Out All Over," died shortly after midnight.

His lyrical gift helped fashion a brilliant string of musical shows that have become popular classics, from "Rose Marie," "The Desert Song," and "Show Boat," down through "Oklahoma," "South Pacific," "The King and I" and currently the Broadway smash "The Sound of Music."

Since his collaboration with composer Richard Rodgers in 1942, the names of the two men have become a theatrical tradition.

Asked once what he deemed the most profound change in modern musical theater, song writer Cole Porter, a musical giant in his own right, replied: "Rodgers and Hammerstein."

There first effort was "Oklahoma!" When the curtain rose on that show in March 1943, it took Broadway by storm.

Critics and drama historians alike hailed it as a turning point in theater, a fresh integrated production that kicked traditional musicals into the discard.

"Oklahoma" ran on Broadway for five years and nine weeks—an all-time record for a musical. It became something of a folklore itself and inspired a new school of musical shows.

Eaton Area Chalks 2nd 4-Death Crash

EATON, Ohio (AP)—A second four-death traffic collision in two days has stunned Preble County.

A 10-year-old sedan and a gas-line truck crashed Monday, killing two mothers and a daughter of each. It happened at the junction of Ohio 122 and a county road.

On Sunday night, two cars jammed with families collided at the meeting of Ohio 177 and 725 southwest of here, killing four persons and injuring a dozen.

Monday's wrecked killed Mrs. Donna Jean Shellhamer, 30, of Eaton and her daughter, Denise, 4; Mrs. Virginia Jacobs, 38, of Columbus and her daughter, Cynthia, 5.

Powers Family Bids Farewell To Prison-Bound U.S. U2 Pilot

MOSCOW (AP)—Barbara Powers put on a bright yellow dress today and had a farewell talk with her imprisoned husband, U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

They met at the Soviet Supreme Court building.

A little earlier, his parents, Oliver W. and Ida Ford Powers, spent a last sad hour with their son who has been sentenced to 30 years' detention for espionage.

Neither parents nor wife were able to speak with newsmen when they emerged. They were all obviously overcome with emotion.

When Barbara came out she shielded her face with her hand. Her mother, Mrs. Monteen Brown of Milledgeville, Ga., ran interference for her as she dashed to a limousine for the drive back to the hotel.

This was the first time since her arrival in Moscow that Barbara had worn a bright color. She did so today because her husband liked her in yellow.

Powers sent word to his father to "please bring money" to their last meeting so that the flier can buy cigarettes and other small items in jail. Powers also said he could use a watch. His own watch was forfeited to the Soviet state treasury under the terms of his

Jack Tied Up, May Miss VFW Parley

DETROIT (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars went into the second day of their national convention today with only a slim chance remaining that Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) will make it.

The mixup over a proposed visit by the Democratic presidential nominee came on the heels of a speech by Allen W. Dulles, director of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, who charged that the Soviet Union is secretly building up strength for a surprise attack on the free world.

VFW executives turned down Kennedy's proposal to address the convention by telephone, after Kennedy said he felt he was needed in Washington today because of a scheduled vote on the For and health bill.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Republican presidential nominee, had accepted earlier the VFW's invitation to speak VFW commander-in-chief, said today Nixon's date still is firm.

Senate Shuns GOP Plan For Aged Medical Care

Latin Nations Get Warning From Herter

Red Infiltration Labeled Menace to West Hemisphere

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will warn the Latin American nations today that they—not the United States—are most menaced by communism's attempt to infiltrate the Western Hemisphere via Cuba.

Herter, laying down a hard U.S. line toward Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime, was expected to urge the foreign ministers' conference of the Organization of American States to condemn Red Chinese-Soviet threats to the hemisphere. It was not known whether he would back Argentina's plan for a special conference to chart plans for a democratic counter-offensive.

Herter's speech late this afternoon follows a new U.S. memorandum to the conference accusing Cuba of training spies and guerrillas to spread Communist revolution throughout the hemisphere.

The tough U.S. stand chilled hopes of some Latin American delegates that they could arrange some procedure to immediate differences between the United States and Fidel Castro's regime.

The nine-page U.S. memorandum to the OAS Peace Committee supplemented an earlier 78-page report. Besides charging that international brigades are being trained in Cuba to carry the Red message to other Latin American nations, the new memo noted recent Cuban moves to suppress "the remaining vestige of individual liberty in Cuba—religious freedom."

Cuba's OAS ambassador, Carlos Lechuga, termed the report "totally false." Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa was expected to demand sanctions against the United States, charging economic aggression against Cuba.

Argentina's proposal called for another conference within 90 days to prepare a draft treaty of methods "for prevention and eradication of the Communist movement in the hemisphere." Initial reaction to the proposal was cool.

The United States was considered likely to get a good response to its request for a strong stand against Soviet infiltration in view of the U.S. agreement to take political and economic sanctions against the Trujillo regime in the Dominican Republic.

There was some apprehension, however, that if too much pressure was placed on Cuba, she might take her charges against the United States back before the U.N. Security Council. Cuba sought U.N. condemnation of the United States in July, but the council referred the complaint over to the OAS.

Autopsy Confirms Story of Slayings

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—Two teenage inmates of Gallipolis State Hospital were to undergo further questioning today about their admitted strangling of three fellow patients. An autopsy has confirmed they were telling the truth at least partly.

Gallia County Coroner Donald R. Warehime reported Monday night that the autopsy on the body of one patient Robert Flora, 39, of Toledo, showed the man had been strangled.

Dr. Warehime earlier had signed certificates giving heart conditions as the cause of death for Flora and the other two patients, William Murphy, 41, of Lucasville, and Paul Cross, 41, of Cincinnati.

Hospital Supt. Dr. George R. Roberts said the deaths were thought at first to be natural because the victims were in wards set aside for extremely ill patients and because there were no marks of strangulation or violence on any of the bodies.

Roberts said the teen-agers, Robert Brown, 18, of Chillicothe, and John Turner, 14, of Hamilton County, admitted strangling the three men "for kicks."

Officials said Brown has the mental capacity of an 8-year-old while Turner has the mind of a 6-year-old.

The hospital superintendent said the boys told him they would have killed more patients if they hadn't been discovered.

The discovery came about after an unidentified 39-year-old patient was found Sunday night with a towel and sheet twisted around his neck. Although turning blue, he was revived, Roberts said.

Another patient said he saw Brown come out of the room where the man was found. Under questioning, Brown admitted the attack, then confessed to strangling the other three patients and implicated Turner, who confessed his part, Roberts said.

Cross died the night of Aug. 12, Flora last Thursday night and Murphy Friday night.

The boys said they lured Cross and Flora into a toilet and strangled them with sheets, and also used a sheet to strangle Murphy while he was sleeping.

Roberts said it will be at least four days before microscopic

Copter Plucks Woman from Wreck Site

EAGLE, Colo. (AP)—A woman injured in a plane crash Sunday in the jagged White Mountains of northwest Colorado was rescued from the wilderness by an Air Force helicopter today.

Bonnie Shuts, 24, of St. Joseph, Mo., was brought to Eagle in the copter, then was transferred to a plane for a trip to a Denver hospital.

She was the last of four persons in the plane wreck to be brought out. Three of the four suffered injuries.

Her husband, Ellis Lynn Shuts, a clinical psychologist at the state hospital at St. Joseph, plodded through 20 miles of dense forest to the ranch house of Tom Currier Monday afternoon to summon help.

The other two in the party, A. W. Blue, 31, the pilot and also a psychologist at the hospital; and T.L. Pursley of Nevada, Mo., were brought out by jeep and ambulance shortly before midnight.

Mrs. Shuts suffered a back injury.

After The Associated Press carried the story last Saturday.

From South Bend, Ind., came an offer to supply all the autos for the motorcycle to meet Melvin at Los Angeles Airport Aug. 31.

From Florida, Joe Young telephoned Gestson to bring Melvin to Tallahassee to show that "Florida will outdo anything California can do."

In Peoria, Melvin, said: "I gave up trying to figure this thing out."

Kennedy Deal Studied Now

Nixon-Backed Formula Fails To Win OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today turned down a Republican medical care plan backed by the party's presidential nominee, Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The rejection cleared the way for the key test later in the afternoon on whether to accept a Democratic proposal for a health benefits plan linked into the Social Security system.

This formula had the full backing of the Democratic presidential nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The GOP proposal called for 900 million dollars in annual federal-state grants to help buy health insurance protection for persons over 65.

Earlier, Republicans hinted that President Eisenhower might veto any medical care plan tied into Social Security program, if it was what Congress enacts.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois talked of a veto after GOP congressional leaders had their regular weekly meeting with Eisenhower.

Dirksen didn't quote the President. But on the basis of Eisenhower's previous statements, Dirksen said, he might very conceivably disapprove a plan tying medical care for the aged into the Social Security system.

On the other hand, Dirksen said, Eisenhower probably would approve the Javits proposal. He said it contains many of the features Eisenhower has advocated including federal-state grants to help the aged meet medical bills.

This proposal is sponsored by Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) as a rival to the Kennedy-backed Social Security plan.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader and party vice-presidential nominee, told newsmen at the Capitol that even the Javits plan marked an administration move toward the Democratic view.

Some Democrats said privately as the showdown approached that they could not see how the Kennedy-backed proposal could win without votes of several Republicans. There is opposition to it from some Southern Democrats.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, is backing the Javits proposal.

Both parties believe that at least to some extent the outcome will affect the votes of 16 million Americans over 65. Also concerned are many younger persons now supporting aged relatives.

Private Plane May Be Down In This Area

A telegram has been received here by Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff alerting local authorities that a private plane carrying four Oklahoma City, Okla. residents may be down in this area.

According to the telegram, Henry S. Griffing, prominent Oklahoma attorney, his wife and son and daughter left Teterboro, N. J. August 16. They have not been heard from since.

The message said Griffing's Cessna Plane, type 180, black with red markings, No. 8914T may have crashed in this area.

Sheriff Radcliff said Griffing's company has offered $5,000 reward for information leading to discovery of the family or plane.

THE sheriff said the Oklahoma Bar Assn. has requested Pickaway County officials to search the area.

Radcliff today urged residents, especially those in rural sections, to be on the lookout for the plane. He said the craft possibly could have crashed at night in some secluded spot in the community, preventing immediate discovery.

The number of tips has been unusually large, presumably because of the $5,000 reward offered for finding Griffing and his family by Video Independent Theatres, Inc., the company of which he is president.

The man and his wife, Josephine, are in their middle fifties. Their children are Linda, 20, and Phillip, 24.

Medical Society Hit by Ohio Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) today called the American Medical Assn. an antiquated and reactionary organization.

Young said the social security act should be expanded to cover 150,000 employed and self-employed doctors.

"The AMA," he said, "through its ruling clique has succeeded in prevailing upon congress to exclude self-employed physicians and surgeons from coverage under the act."

"This antiquated and reactionary organization does not speak for the great majority of doctors who desire to be included under the act and who have publicly expressed this desire in polls and otherwise."

"In fact, it speaks only for a small group of willful doctors who have the time to devote to its activities rather than to practicing medicine."

GOP Magazine Rips GOP's Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Saturday Evening Post protested today that the Republican National Committee distorted one of the magazine's articles on Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The Post said a version of the article published in the committee's new campaign magazine "Battle Line" goes "well beyond the accepted rules of the game of political propaganda."

The article by Stewart Alsop, the Post said, "was an objective report of how Sen. Jack Kennedy won the Democratic presidential nomination."

"The 'Battle Line' version of the article contains a number of distortions and quotations out of context," the Post said.

"The Saturday Evening Post is by tradition Republican in editorial outlook, but it believes in objective reporting."

Vote in Senate

voted on first, to be followed if it is beaten by a vote on the social security amendment offered by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) with Kennedy's backing.

The Anderson amendment would raise the social security payroll tax 1/4 per cent each on worker and employer, bringing in a billion dollars to finance medical benefits at age 65 for those covered by the system.

Benefits would include hospital and home nursing care, home health services, and diagnostic outpatient hospital services including X-rays and laboratory.

Sponsors said the benefits package was kept relatively modest so that experience could be gained in a new program. They estimated the annual cost at 600 to 700 million dollars, and said the types of payments could be expanded later if these figures proved accurate.

The Javits proposal calls for 900 million dollars annually in federal-state grants, split equally, to help pay for three alternative types of health insurance protection for old persons.

The New Yorker said this would be a voluntary program, with the states participating as they saw fit. The beneficiary also would have to pay at least a minimum fee and thus would have a stake in operation of the program, he said.

Zoning Vote Today In Walnut Twp.

A special ballot is under vote today in Walnut Twp. for proposing zoning of the unincorporated areas of the twp. A majority of affirmative votes is necessary for passage.

Harrison, Madison and Scioto Twp. already have passed zoning for their townships and Darby has filed for an election on proposed voting to take place with the regular election in the fall.

2 Burglaries, One Attempt Reported

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today investigated two burglaries and an attempted entry in this area last night.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff said a service station in New Holland and the New Holland Grain Co. were burglarized. An attempted entry was made at an elevator on Route 22 west of here, he said.

There was no immediate estimate of loot. Deputy Dwight Radcliff continued the investigation today.

AFTER THE SHOUTING—French UN Ambassador Armand Bernard (right) and UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld sit calmly in the Security Council session in New York as the Congo situation is harangued. After the shouting was over, Bernard, council president for the month, said, "We are convinced that the secretary general will have found the clarification he required, and that no doubt will help him in the continuation of his task." The council, ignoring Soviet opposition, endorsed Hammarskjöld's Congo policy.

Churchill Warning to HST On Red Expansion Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain's Winston Churchill warned Harry S. Truman about Soviet expansion plans before the U.S. president went to Potsdam in 1945, it was reported today.

And after Truman got to the wartime parley with Churchill and Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin, he found the Reds defending their land grabs in Eastern Europe and reaching for more.

This was reported by the Minneapolis Tribune and the Des Moines Register Tribune in the third of a series of four articles by Fletcher Knebel and Charles W. Bailey on the still-unpublished Potsdam papers.

The July 17-Aug. 2, 1945, meeting at Potsdam, near Berlin, was the last of the big World War II conferences among the major allies. It made postwar plans including provisions for democratic processes in Eastern Europe, which the Soviets never lived up to.

The Knebel-Bailey account said the Potsdam papers show the Western foreign ministers James F. Byrnes for the United States and Anthony Eden for Britain, argued daily in vain with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov over Communist activities in Bulgaria, Romania, Yugoslavia, Italy, Greece and Poland, and "there was no solution to be found."

Churchill voiced his concern over the Soviet takeovers in a May 11 1945, cable to Truman—two months in advance of the Potsdam gathering. Just a month earlier, on April 12, Truman had become president upon the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

An earlier Knebel-Bailey article said that Stalin, with the approval of Truman, stalled a Japanese peace feeler three weeks before the first atomic bomb destroyed Hiroshima.

After the feeler reportedly was made through Moscow, the Japanese were formally asked to surrender and formally rejected the ultimatum before the bomb was dropped.

The same published reports say the documents relate that Stalin once praised Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as an "honest man" for turning over the Soviets 135,000 German troops who had tried to surrender to the Americans.

Rev. Benner Named to Top Church Post

The Churches of Christ in Christian Union, conducting General Council in Circleville last week, elected the Rev. L. C. Benner of Chillicothe to the office of General Superintendent for a two year term.

The Rev. Benner has been an ordained minister in the church for 30 years. He has served as assistant General Superintendent for four years previous to last week's election. His last pastorate was at Chillicothe in the High St. Church.

The Rev. Benner succeeds the Rev. G. C. Johnson of Columbus

who has completed his term of office after 16 consecutive years of service to his denomination as general superintendent. During the administration of the Rev. Johnson the denomination, which began in Ohio and had its main body of churches in this state, has expanded to include churches in 10 states.

The Rev. and Mrs. Johnson were presented with gifts of affection in a special ceremony in their honor at the close of the 1960 General Council. Rev. Johnson has now been elected for a two-year term as general missionary superintendent of the denomination.

Lack of Apprentices
Bemoaned by Singer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer-actress Pearl Bailey believes the entertainment business has been slowly devouring itself since the death of vaudeville.

"We're the only industry in the world without apprentices," bemoans Pearl Bailey. The septa star, one of the top draws in the plush saloon circuit, got her start in shows that played throughout Pennsylvania in the thirties.

"Young performers have no place to be lousy anymore," says Pearl. "How can you become a headline act if you don't start as an opening or second act?"

It's become a crusade with Pearl—a crusade that her agent estimates cost her $300,000 last year. Fortunately, her work in such movies as "Porgy and Bess" and "Al the Fine Young Cannibals," kept the grocery bills paid.

A year ago, the Cocoon Grove here signed Pearl for a solo engagement at her regular price. She showed up with a whole show employing 40 people, all of whom she paid out of her own salary. The show was such a success that the Grove brought it back this year and this time is paying the freight. Pearl's show is in for six weeks at the Grove, about double the usual time for attractions.

Next she plans to take the show—a complete musical revue—to theaters.

"We played one theater in the South Side of Chicago that had been closed for 24 years. Since we played there, it's opened up with live entertainment and has been going strong ever since."

"Maybe old Pearlie can bring back vaudeville," she said. "Nothing ever killed vaudeville but lazy performers. The people want live entertainment."

The population of what later became the United States was estimated at 2,500 in 1620, the year the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock.

Attorney Says Gallia Man Admits Shooting Wife, 18

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—An attorney for Ferrell Eugene Randolph, 23, accused of the first-degree murder of his wife, told a three-judge panel Monday that his client did not deny the shooting.

Randolph is accused of the May 13 pistol slaying of his 18-year-old wife, Virginia, last May 13. She was shot three times with a .32 caliber pistol.

Robert S. Betz, Randolph's attorney told the judges hearing the case that Mrs. Randolph had made threats of bodily harm upon the couple's 17-month-old daughter and that the husband was afraid she would carry out those threats.

In addition the attorney said, an order for Randolph to appear in court the day of the slaying had put him in such a state of mind that he could not think clearly for himself. Randolph, however, didn't show up for the court hearing, stemming from a divorce action his wife had filed three days before.

Betz said that in view of the circumstances and evidence presented—a policeman testified that Randolph apparently had fired in self-defense—the defendant was entitled to mercy.

The policeman, Bill Barr, was the first officer to arrive on the slaying scene—the Gallipolis home of Mrs. Randolph's mother, Mrs. Nellie DeVault, who lived next door to the couple. Patrolman Barr said Mrs. Randolph was clutching a butcher knife when he found her body.

Randolph said his wife "came at me with a knife," Barr testified.

However, Prosecutor Warren F. Sheets said the state will try to prove that Randolph was standing outside the kitchen window of the DeVault home when he fired the shots.

The defendant then waited an hour inside the home before phoning his sister, who came over, saw the victim's body and notified authorities, Sheets said.

When Barr reached the house he heard a shot, then discovered that Randolph wounded himself with the gun.

The prosecution has three more witnesses to call today then the defense takes over.

Newark City Jail Death To Be Probed

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Police are looking into the circumstances leading to the death of a 55-year-old Licking County man, Lewis Fowls of Hanover.

He was arrested early Sunday in a Newark cafe on charges of intoxication. Later he was found in his city jail cell with severe head injuries. Three hours after the discovery, he died in Newark Hospital.

4-Year-Old Girl Asleep For 2 Months

CLEVELAND (AP)—It will be two months Tuesday that 4-year-old Linda Cummings entered Metropolitan General Hospital with a bad case of measles. She's been sleeping ever since.

Her coma, however, involves no mystery. Doctors have diagnosed her ailment as encephalitis. It attacks the central nervous system and brain. A doctor said Sunday Linda's was the most severe case of its kind he had seen in five years.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cummings of Cleveland. The family has two other children, Ronald, 6, and Steven, 2.

During her hospital stay, Linda has been fed intravenously and her breathing has been aided by an iron lung. Throughout the illness, the Cummings family has maintained a vigil over their sleep-stricken daughter.

An aunt, Mrs. Mildred Golden, spends her nights at the hospital. Doctors have told the couple that only one-third of those afflicted with encephalitis recover.

"I wanted to be nearby in case she cried out," the aunt said. "She opens her eyes sometimes but does not say anything."

The father, a 27-year-old truck driver, said he feels helpless when he goes to see his daughter. "I want to do something for her, but I can't," he said. He said he was sure his daughter moved her lips Sunday as if to say "Mama."

The mother, Mrs. Norma Cummings, 26, said she has been heartened by the girl's progress in the past few days. "She's moved from side to side and even stretched," the mother reported. She also seemed more alert and was breathing better," said Mrs. Cummings, who has sat at the bedside for as long as eight hours a stretch.

"We know she'll get well," the mother said.

Asylum in Russia

LONDON (AP)—Radio Moscow said today Vladimir Sloboda, a U. S. Army specialist from an intelligence unit in West Germany, has asked for political asylum in the Soviet Union. It attributed to him a denunciation of U. S. intelligence activities intensifying "preparations for another war."

Sloboda, born in Poland, disappeared 20 days ago. U. S. Army headquarters in Heidelberg said the soldier, a U. S. citizen who had no home address in the United States was a linguist and clerk with "only very limited access to any security information."

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Light rain ended shortly after midnight in the extreme south central portion, while the remainder of the state had fair weather.

Early in the night, fog began to form in all portions of the state, and by sunrise the fog had reduced the visibility to zero in many areas.

This morning the fog was to lift, and Ohio will enjoy mostly sunny weather with afternoon temperatures ranging from the low to the upper 80s.

Fair weather is forecast for tonight and Wednesday, with little change in temperature except for the chance of a little cooler weather in the northeast Wednesday.

Temperatures this morning ranged from 56 in Cleveland to 68 at Chesapeake, Columbus and Zanesville had 60.

Ike's Niche in History

Every President is assumed to be acutely aware of what his place will be in history. Most of them have studied the records of their predecessors for whatever value they might have in making their own decisions. But the last three White House occupants expressed unconcern over what history had in store for them.

When a proposal to write an official biography came to him, Franklin Roosevelt scoffed: "Let's wait a hundred years." Harry Truman, coming unprepared to the great responsibility, took the attitude that the work was his to do, he did it and let history make the appraisals.

Asked the other day at a news conference how he felt about his place in history, President Eisenhower replied:

"My place in history will be decided by historians, and they will probably give consideration to these years and to the war years—what they think they deserve—and then they will make a conclusion. I don't think I will be around to differ with them."

There's not much more to be said. A President does his duty as he sees it and then he belongs to the ages. Whether the later record is weighted with warmth, coldness or indifference, the actor on the stage can have little foreknowledge.

Courtin' Main

If the truth about us had to be inscribed on our tombstones, all of us would want to be buried at sea.

Food-for-Peace Bandwagon

One of the phenomena of the current election campaign is that everybody seems to be trying to run with the food-for-peace ball.

Just a few days ago, after meeting with President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon said that one of the two main topics of discussion with the President was "the need to expedite the President's own food-for-peace proposal."

Earlier Nixon revealed during the campaign in North Dakota that the President had planned to propose "a United Nations pool of surplus food" at the summit conference torpedoed so rudely by Khrushchev.

Vice Presidential candidate Lodge said recently that in his concentration on foreign policy, the food-for-peace program would be cut in for attention.

But the Democrats already have a strong footing in this area. Sen. Hubert Humphrey has suggested increases to the basic 1954 food-for-peace law, at least once a year. And there have been many others.

Come to think of it, the whole idea did not begin with any of the leading current politicians. It seems to have originated in Henry Wallace's "ever-normal granary" concept of 20 years or so ago. But perhaps the candidates do not want to be reminded of this.

A Grown Up Grownup Is Rare

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato.

Are you grown up? If you really are, you are a rarity. Perhaps you belong in the Smithsonian Institution.

One of the most shocking discoveries that can come to a person in middle age—if he is honest with himself—is the realization that he has changed little from the person he was as a child.

The only thing that consoles him, as he peers more closely at his middle-aged neighbors, is the discovery that they too aren't really grown up—they are merely enlarged children.

When young, we yearn desperately to be grown up figuring that mere size and time will magically make us able to solve all our problems and get everything we want from life.

Well, it doesn't often work out that way.

As adults we are indeed bigger and older. But we have grown up only physically; emotionally we are still back in kindergarten—and there most of us stubbornly stay most of our days.

What is the most outstanding characteristic of the ordinary child, even the most angelic? Surely it is his determination to have his own way, to bend the whole vast world he was born into to his own imperious will.

Frustrated, he howls and shakes his tiny fists in anger. He is an outrageous capitalist and show-off from the moment he takes his first step. He wants to own everything that catches his eye, and he wants to be admired for everything he does.

If he loses at a game and weeps and is told he should be "a good sport," he asks practically, "Why?" His theory is that if the other kids won't play his way, he'll pick up his marbles and go home. He tends, by human nature, to be vain, arrogant and full of self-pity.

Life is full of one disappointment after another as it curbs his behavior and forces him to be more social. But inwardly his desires rage and riot as strong as ever.

As a youth he is confident that when he is an adult he will at last be free to have his own way and live his own life. He is optimistically certain that the petty restrictions will end that he will find the perfect friend, meet and marry the perfect wife, seek and land the perfect job.

We find as the years roll on that our friends are as pitted with faults as we are, our wives are little better than those of our neighbors, and the perfect job is always beyond our reach.

True maturity consists in making the best of what life brings us, in realizing there is always a necessary compromise between dream and reality. If you can do that, you have truly grown up.

But who among us wants to be this mature? Secretly, in our heart of hearts, we still want what we can't have. We remain vain, selfish, arrogant, envious and full of self-pity.

We learn to camouflage our actions because we have to. But now and again the rebel breaks through, and you see grownup people behaving as childish as they really are.

Then we say in surprise, "Why, he acts like he's in his second childhood." This isn't accurate.

The truth is most of us never have a second childhood because we never leave the first one.

Dick, Jack Must Be Frank

Nixon v. Kennedy has not yet developed into a debate on issues. Kennedy has a brain trust of Harvard professors; Nixon has a brain trust of Harvard professors and some others. This is mostly window dressing.

Both candidates have been in the national legislature for 14 years. They know what they believe. They also know what they believe and what they are prepared to say are not quite the same thing.

As men of great experience in politics, they will not and cannot depend on academic and business advisers to counsel them. Ultimately, they will follow those lines of least opposition which might assure election.

Nor are the academic and business advisers of either candidate particularly impressive from a vote-gathering standpoint. And elections have to do with votes; that is why they are held. Therefore, we can regard the announcements of these lists of great minds as a one-day news story and forget about them forever more.

Thus far, neither candidate has startled the nation with ideas and purposes. John Kennedy's speech at Franklin D. Roosevelt's grave was a dramatic performance of no particular vote-getting significance. The appeal to the old voters was mindful of the long-forgotten Dr. Townsend. Granted that the problem of the aged is constantly with us, the matter is not as acute, for instance, as the deterioration of the dollar. And about that neither of the candidates speaks a word.

Richard Nixon needs to take the initiative in dealing with major problems or he has to run in defense of the Eisenhower Administration. He needs to prove to the country that he has the stature of a President as well as that of a Vice President. In the campaign he can prove it only by words.

Thus far, the Republicans have put out two propagandistic ideas: one deals with Kennedy's very bad attendance record in the Senate. The entire country witnessed Kennedy chasing hither and yon winning primaries, seeking delegates, etc. A man cannot be in two places simultaneously; therefore if Kennedy was beating Humphrey in Wisconsin and West Virginia, he could not be in the Senate.

The other is a pamphlet on what other Democrats said about Kennedy and it is a devastating indictment. Now, I suppose the Democrats will issue a pamphlet on what Republicans said about Nixon over the years. Such pamphlets are not fundamental.

Thus far, the candidates have avoided fundamentals. Ordinarily this is good politics. This has long been regarded as correct technique. But it is not going to work too well in this campaign.

The conditions the country faces are too serious and many of them will grow more complicated during the campaign. The people are looking for leadership. The people want a man to stand up for himself. If both candidates will note the response in the Republican Convention to the excitement over the speeches of Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rep. Walter Judd, they will learn much of what is in the minds of our people. And if they will have a look at the current ferment in the South, they will also discover that public opinion in this country is not made by a handful of college professors and exhibitionistic businessmen and labor leaders. If ever a people did its own, individualistic thinking, it is the American people in this election.

Both candidates face one serious problem, namely, that many will not vote for either of them unless strong leadership is exhibited. The Republicans defeated both Wendell Willkie and Thomas E. Dewey by not voting for them. This is demonstrable by a comparison with the vote cast in those elections for local officials.

The Conservative Republican and the Conservative Democrat constitute a sufficiently large part of the electorate to influence the outcome of the 1960 election. The Conservative Republican defeated Wendell Willkie but even more so Thomas E. Dewey. He just abstained from voting for a President of the United States. This year, that can also occur in the South among the Democrats.

Richard Nixon still has to speak up and if he means to have a fighting campaign, he must, to win, fight with ideas and sincerity. Getting canned stuff from a brain trust was possible in 1932 when Roosevelt used this device; in 1960, the nation wants a man to speak for himself. The people are on to ghost-writers.

'CELEBS FOR NIXON'—Co-chairmen of a new "Celebrities for Nixon" committee are actress Helen Hayes and Hollywood producer Mervyn Le Roy, both shown. Charter members include such stars as John Wayne, Katherine Cornell, Dick Powell.

Andrew Johnson served Tennessee and the United States successively as congressman, governor, senator, governor, vice president, President and seagor.

"I'm not sure," admitted the son, "but I think it's Chief Sitting Bear."

Some Need Glasses More

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

Who wears glasses? A good many of us, it seems.

Latest estimates are that about 77,000,000 Americans wear eyeglasses and another 6,500,000 wear contact lenses.

As has long been suspected, a survey indicates that persons whose work requires close-up use of the eyes are more likely to wear glasses than are those who can frequently look off into the distance.

Garment workers, according to a study of 18,000 industrial employees, are first in the list of visually defective persons requiring glasses.

Stenographers, housewives, scholars and printers also rank high on the list.

As for clerical and administrative personnel, about 51 per cent of them wear glasses. Some 50.8 per cent of inspectors, draftsmen and near point assemblers wear them.

For skilled craftsmen and technical help, the figure drops to 43.2 per cent.

Only about one-third (35.4 per cent) of the workers on routine production jobs require glasses and, for unskilled labor, the figure is 31.6 per cent.

According to the report published in a recent edition of Patterns 27.2 per cent of drivers of mobile equipment—buses, taxis, etc.—require glasses. And farmers need them least of all.

Now these are statistics, of course, and statistics are generally pretty boring if they do not interest you.

But if your occupation is included in any of these categories, these statistics should be of considerable interest. If you don't already wear glasses, they tend to indicate whether you might have to wear them in the future.

Although you may not think it true, women are generally more likely to develop vision defects than are men.

Industrial accidents are a major source of eye injury. About 1,000 eye injuries occur every day throughout the nation's industries.

Question and Answer

J. D. L.: What harm would result if kidney stones are not removed?

Answer: In addition to the severe attacks of pain, kidney stones may block a kidney, leading to loss of function of the kidney and infection.

Indication for removal depends upon their size, location and how much trouble they are causing.

Latin Nations To Rap Castro

Cuba May Be Labeled Red Trojan Horse

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The Western Hemisphere foreign ministers' meeting has entered a new, critical phase in which Cuba may be pointed out as a Trojan horse for communism in the Americas.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro has already served notice Cuba will reject any such charge and will bitterly attack the United States. A Cuban walkout from the conference being held by the Organization of American States (OAS) is possible.

Guatemalan President Miguel Ydigoras told a news conference Sunday that Castro "is a danger to the security and peace of the Western Hemisphere because of his dependence on international communism."

Commenting on the conference here, Ydigoras expressed hope the meeting would take effective action against Communist infiltration.

The Havana, the semi-official newspaper Revolution said today the study of Communist infiltration in the Western Hemisphere is "a Yankee maneuver to coerce the Caribbean."

The newspaper prominently displayed Castro's speech Sunday saying that a Cuban people "armed to the teeth" was Cuba's answer to the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States.

The foreign ministers turned to discussing Communist infiltration of Latin America after signing a resolution condemning the dictatorial regime of Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo in the Dominican Republic. The United States joined with other members of the OAS Sunday in approving diplomatic and economic restrictions against the Trujillo regime until it makes democratic reforms.

The Dominican delegation walked out of the conference Saturday in protest against the resolution which it termed "illegal and coercive."

U.S. Tastes Change as Pay Total Varies

Many Holding Back On Buying of Big Ticket Merchandise

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Changing tastes are keeping step today with changing incomes. And Americans are handling their take-home pay differently than a little while back. This is affecting the whole economy as 1960 wears on.

Many are holding back for a bit on buying big ticket items to the dismay of their manufacturers and of such basic industries as steel. Many are spending more on goods that don't last very long to the delight of those eager to replace them.

Some Americans are even saving a bit more of their larger incomes perhaps because they aren't too sure the economy is going to get off dead center.

But the American liking for the new is as evident as ever. And businessmen who have come out with new products, or better or more snappy versions of the old have been reaping the profits.

This goes for those selling the cameras around every other tourist's neck or making the compact cars that were the bibles of the 1960 ball.

The smaller cars have had more than just novelty appeal. Their lower prices and operation costs have left more for growing families to spend on the goods and activities that mark a new way of life—a slowly changing standard of living.

Americans are spending more of their money for things that make life pleasanter or cut into labor time at home or the office.

There are more Americans able to do this. One big trend of the postwar years has been the growth of the middle income class. More families have more to spend than did their parents.

At first this spurred the big ticket industries as newcomers to the middle-income group bought cars and homes and all the appliances that made life easier.

They also married younger and had larger families. But as these families grew up, the amount that is spent for food—and better food, easier to prepare—clothing, medical care, education is increasing. More has been going into recreation and travel. Less is left just now for buying new and bigger gadgets.

Total spending has kept on rising. But each year more is spent for prepared or almost prepared foods, for all the small or big gadgets that cut housekeeping to a minimum of work and time.

The family room with its TV set, radio, table tennis, has become the bugaboo of the entertainment industry, as people stay home and save their money for something else that they crave more just now.

Spunky's Criminal Career Dates Back to Age of 14

COSHOCKTON, Ohio (AP)—The question among Ohio law enforcement officers is: "Where will Spunky Firman show up next?"

The answer: "Where he's least expected."

The free-wheeling bandit of the Walhonding Valley has been blazing a bizarre trail of crime from one end of the state to the other since breaking out of the Coshocton County jail the night of July 26.

His exploits have been less believable than a television adventure script.

The 21-year-old gun-toter, with a crime record that dates back seven years, has a talent for eluding posses and dodging roadblocks.

This does not surprise law enforcement officers here because, they say, he knows every back road in Coshocton County.

His home is on such a back road just north of U.S. 36, not far from the village of Warsaw, northwest of here.

It's an area of hills and strip mines where hideouts are plentiful. That is why he always returns to home base while the Ohio Highway Patrol and other officers search in different parts of the state.

His worried mother, Mrs. Margaret Mason, can't remember when Gordon — that's Spunky's real name — wasn't in some sort of trouble.

"He was always a rascal," she told me, but it was clear that she still looked upon him with affection.

"He can be a good boy," she said. "In fact, he is two different personalities — the good Spunky and the bad. He has a lot of friends, but I suppose he has a lot of enemies, too."

His friends have included former inmates at Mansfield Reformatory, some of whom have accompanied him during his recent crime spree.

He became a criminal at the age of 14 when he terrorized truck drivers along Ohio 16 near Coshocton.

Finding them asleep in their trucks along the highway, he would slip up on them, prod them with a revolver, then make off with their money.

One drowsy driver failed to respond promptly and Spunky shot him. The man recovered.

These crimes were for small stakes, for truck drivers seldom carry more than a few dollars in their wallets.

After the shooting of the truck driver, Spunky took off for his old home town of Steubenville and was arrested there by a policeman who saw him on the street at 2 a. m.

The cop thought this was a late hour for such a small boy to be out alone.

Following a two-year stretch in the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster, Spunky was released and promptly got into trouble again. He was arrested in 1956 for burglary and grand larceny after "breaking into a lot of places," as Deputy Sheriff Dwight Walker recalls it.

This time he was sent to Mansfield Reformatory and was released last January.

Luck has played a major role in Spunky's recent success.

Hunted by a posse in Coshocton County two weeks ago, he managed to escape pursuing bloodhounds by wading a stream.

Later, the bloodhounds were said to be hot on his trail when the man who was handling the dogs became exhausted and had to rest.

On one occasion on this chase, Spunky was saved by the fact that an auxiliary deputy sheriff, William Wilson, didn't want to shoot the youth when he had the chance at close range.

Instead, he fired at the truck Firman was driving in the hope of stopping him, but without success.

Firman is now wanted in a half-dozen counties for crimes ranging from car theft and burglary to assault and kidnapping. His trail has led from Steubenville on the Ohio River to Middletown in the southwestern part of the state and back through southern Ohio.

His most spectacular exploit came last Wednesday when he showed up at the Coshocton County jail and forced a deputy, at gunpoint, to release a caddy, Bob Johnson, 22. Then he locked the officer, Owen Meredith in Johnson's cell.

Firman and Johnson are known to be armed and dangerous. To throw officers off their trail, they abandon one car and steal another at frequent intervals. If pursuers come uncomfortably close they head for the back roads of Coshocton County.

How did Spunky get that nickname? Not for any of his criminal habits. An older brother started calling him that when he was a baby.

Death Threat Linked To Embezzlement Case

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Ollis Hess has agreed to hear a probation report in Common Pleas Court on Roy Brown, 50, admitted embezzler, before passing sentence. Brown pleaded guilty Monday to embezzlement indictments totaling $31,341 from two building and loan associations.

Brown said in court he had been paying extortion money to a man who threatened harm to him or his daughter. Brown said the man robbed his hardware store five years ago and threatened him with death if he reported it.

Equal TV Time Rule Suspended

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has sent to President Eisenhower legislation clearing the way for television and radio debates between the Republican and Democratic presidential candidates.

The House passed by voice vote a bill, already approved by the Senate, to suspend for the current campaign any obligation by broadcasters to give equal time to candidates of minor and splinter parties.

The Republican and Democratic presidential nominees, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy, have agreed in principle on the meetings if the details can be worked out.

The suspension of the equal time requirement also applies to the vice-presidential candidates, Republican Henry Cabot Lodge and Democrat Lyndon B. Johnson.

Juke Box Helps Olympic Spirit

World Harmony Found In Recreation Hall

ROME (AP) — The blare of a juke box is harmonizing international relations in the Olympic Village.

The social heart of the sprawling, modernistic athletic encampment is the recreation hall.

The "club" is filled with comfortable chairs and sofas, and ringed with soft drink and candy booths, but the joint doesn't start to jump until somebody slips a coin into the juke box.

Then such choices of world music lovers as "Daddy Cool," "Crazy Baby," "Gunfight at the OK Corral," and "disintegrato" (coming apart) ring out and the boys and girls from all nations begin tapping their feet.

The Americans, natch, are the Terpsichorean leaders, but you also see the British version of the jitterbug, and even some calm dancing by Russians.

As back home, at the town dance, the boys bashfully cluster in stag lines and the girls hopefully sit around awaiting a "den-ciz-vous," "ballare con me," or "let's dance" suggestion.

Those who can't or won't dance seem to enjoy watching the action, especially by the rock 'n' roll devotees. Turban-wearing Indians and doll-like Japanese girls in their colorful kimonos join in the throng which often circles any couple which really cuts a rug. All applaud loudly when the dance ends.

The uncrowned champion of the hall is high jumper Barbara Brown of the U.S. women's track team, who performs with indefatigable agility.

Her rhythmic partners have ranged from welterweight Quincey Daniels of the U.S. boxing team to chin-bearded George de Geana, 5,000-meter runner from British Guineau.

The Russians have good representation at the social evenings which last until 11 p. m. Occasionally a Soviet athlete, wearing the nation's blue sweat togs stares stoically at the juke box as if trying to figure what makes it roar.

Wayne Fetherolf, presiding minister of the Circleville congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced the semi-annual visit of circuit supervisor, R. A. Stone, this week.

The visit is described as part of an advanced training program for Jehovah's Witnesses. R. A. Stone, 28 years a representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, having served in all parts of the United States and in points in Central America, will be assisted by his wife while working with the Circleville congregation.

The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday with a ministry training school session, followed by a 30 minute discourse by Stone.

A field missionary devotional service will be held from Wednesday through Sunday.

The evening program at 8 p. m. Saturday will include a Bible question period, "New Things Learned", which consists of audience participation. A 30 minute discourse by Mr. Stone dealing with counsel for improving one's personal ministry will conclude the session.

Highlight of the week will start at 3 p. m. Sunday when Mr. Stone gives the public talk, "What Does it Mean to Be a Christian?". A congregation Bible study, using the Watchtower magazine as an aid and final remarks by Mr. Stone, will bring the week's activity to a close.

All meetings will be held at the Kingdom Hall, 149 York St.

U.N. To Again Air Cold War Issues

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. General Assembly is going to hear debate on a pair of familiar cold war issues—American spy flights over Soviet territory and the Soviet occupation of Hungary.

The Soviet Union, in a weekend letter to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, called for the Assembly, opening Sept. 20, to consider the so-called "threat to peace" created by Francis Gary Powers' U2 flight, the RB47 shot down by the Soviets July 1 and other U. S. aerial activity.

The United States asked the Assembly to reopen its inquiry into Soviet repression of the 1956 Hungarian revolt and the continuing presence of Soviet soldiers in the satellite nation.

Wayne Fetherolf, presiding minister of the Circleville congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced the semi-annual visit of circuit supervisor, R. A. Stone, this week.

The visit is described as part of an advanced training program for Jehovah's Witnesses. R. A. Stone, 28 years a representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, having served in all parts of the United States and in points in Central America, will be assisted by his wife while working with the Circleville congregation.

The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday with a ministry training school session, followed by a 30 minute discourse by Stone.

A field missionary devotional service will be held from Wednesday through Sunday.

The evening program at 8 p. m. Saturday will include a Bible question period, "New Things Learned", which consists of audience participation. A 30 minute discourse by Mr. Stone dealing with counsel for improving one's personal ministry will conclude the session.

Highlight of the week will start at 3 p. m. Sunday when Mr. Stone gives the public talk, "What Does it Mean to Be a Christian?". A congregation Bible study, using the Watchtower magazine as an aid and final remarks by Mr. Stone, will bring the week's activity to a close.

All meetings will be held at the Kingdom Hall, 149 York St.

DiSalle Vacationing Secretly in Florida

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has refused to be pinned down on his vacation spot. But if he's somewhere in Florida, as a lot of people believe, the Florida Chamber of Commerce has some good promotional ammunition today.

DiSalle's secretary, Miss Mildred Cunningham, said he phoned Monday to say he will extend his vacation another day or two, returning Wednesday or Thursday.

Virginia was the largest state in the union in 1790. Now it ranks 15th.

Jack, Dick Both OK'd by Adenauer

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is pictured as satisfied both candidates for the U.S. presidency would maintain the kind of tough, anti-Communist line Adenauer likes.

This is the report of people in a position to know but unwilling to be quoted by name.

Adenauer, a chronic worrier whose favorite expression is "The situation has never been so serious," was looking at the American election with some concern a few weeks ago. He felt he had little to go on personally about the views of the Democratic nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

To get first-hand information Adenauer sent his press chief, Felix von Eckardt to the United States. Von Eckardt met with Kennedy and other political figures such as Republican Henry Cabot Lodge, and Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson.

Miss Koleen Ewing Becomes Bride of Mr. Robert Wright

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT WRIGHT

Miss Koleen Klovis Ewing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ewing, Wooster, became the bride of Mr. Robert Emerson Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Wright, Ashville, at 2:30 p. m. August 14, in the First Methodist Church, Wooster.

The Rev. Stanley Mullen performed the double ring ceremony, with a centerpiece of white gladiolus on the altar and two seven branch candelabra and palms around the altar.

Mrs. Ernest Taylor was the organist and Mrs. Daniel Firestone was the vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, C. W. Ewing, was attired in a princess line gown of taffeta, fashioned with a bodice of alencon lace, sabrina neckline and long sleeves. The back was accented with two loopings and sashes and a chapel train. Her full length mantilla veil was edged in alencon lace.

Around her neck she wore a lavalier, gift of the groom. She carried a white Bible overlaid with white princess orchids and stephanotis entwined with ivy. She also carried a kerchief of Belgium lace, brought back after the 1st World War by her grandfather, Capt. G. G. McCoy.

Maid of honor was Miss Suzanne McCoy, Wooster, cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were: Miss Sarah Vaughn, Michigan, cousin of bride and Barbara Defenbaugh, Circleville. The bride's attendants wore identical gowns of powder blue nylon sheer over taffeta. The princess bodice featured elbow length sleeves and a scoop neckline. The bouffant bell skirt was fitted to an insert at the waist forming a bow. The attendants carried cascades of white shasta daisies. Miss Kathy Ewing, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress similar to the attendants, designed by her mother and carried a basket of petals.

Gary Stair, groom's college roommate, was best man and Mark

Ewing, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. The ushers were: Patrick Ewing, brother of the bride; Charles Waple, cousin of the groom; Hebron; Harold Richard, Ashville and Donald Hedges, Ashville.

The bride's mother wore a printed silk dress with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was blue and white Delphiniums. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a brown taffeta dress with beige accessories and a willow rose bud corsage.

A reception was held following the wedding in the church dining room. The church was decorated in yellow and white. Bakers fern surrounded the four tiered wedding cake and yellow candles decorated the bridal table. Mrs. Alfred Johnson, aunt of the bride, cut the cake. Other hostesses were: Mrs. Allen Starkey, Green Bay Wis.; Miss Betty Brubaker, Wooster; Miss Weta Mae Leist, Circleville; Mrs. Chester Rickett Jr., Wooster; Miss Cotta Jane Davis, Wooster and Miss Janie Bowen, Wooster.

The bride's going away costume was a fall cotton ensemble with black accessories. She wore the princess orchids from her wedding bouquet.

The bride was graduated by Ohio State University, 1959 in Home Economics. She is now county extension agent of Home Economics in Pickaway County.

The groom was graduated by Ohio State University, 1959 in Agriculture. He is now employed by Ag-Lab Products, Inc., Columbus, who handle Funks-G Hybrid Seed Corn.

The new couple will reside at 419½ E. Main St., after a trip in Scotsman Point, Ontario, Canada.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Green Bay, Wis., Caldeonia Mich., Columbus, Chillicothe, Circleville, Ashville, Laurelville, Dola Herbron, Vickery, Hudson, North Canton, Cleveland, Millersport, Wadsworth, Dalton and Orville.

Dem Admires Dick's Nerve In Dixie Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) said today he admires the courage but doubts the political wisdom of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's decision to speak in the Deep South.

Nixon announced Monday he will talk in Birmingham, Ala., and Atlanta, Ga., Friday after a speech Wednesday at the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention in Detroit, Mich.

Jackson, the Democratic national chairman, said he suspects Nixon may have some hopes of causing elector trouble for Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential nominee.

"I am confident we will carry Georgia and Alabama," Jackson said. "If we can't carry those two states we're out of business. I don't think Mr. Nixon is going to get any electoral votes there, but maybe he's thinking he will cause some trouble for us."

Georgia voters will decide at a primary Sept. 14 whether they want their 12 electors pledged to the Democratic ticket or free to withhold their support. If unpledged, the electors could vote for Nixon, which would be unlikely, or for some other person.

Of 11 electors chosen in Alabama, six have announced they are remaining uncommitted and five said they will vote for the Democratic nominee.

Said to be Spanish: cooked green lima beans seasoned with nutmeg and parsley along with a good dollop of butter.

THE TOTAL LOOK . . . Hair has an exuberant straightness in 1960, says Nancy Mace of New York who designed this coiffure. The hair is docile but bouncy. Body is given by an under permanent wave. Turn hair toward the face.

a head - hugging coil with mild puffs at the side," she explains.

Straightness in hair this year, however, has a kind of exuberance, with a foundation permanent that leaves the hair docile but bouncy.

Hair length is about 3½ to 4 inches in length and in some cases longer, depending on the hair style. Bangs are popular, if they are shaped to the face.

"It is easy to keep straight hair in line," Nancy says. "Just twist your wrist to turn the end curls at the cheek bone."

The one point that shouldn't be neglected she says is hair coloring, if the hair is worn straight. It is easier to detect discolored hair in a straight coiffure.

She suggests that after hair is cut with scissors it should be set on tremendous rollers. The larger the better for a smoother comb-out. It is the smoothness of the hair that is its beauty this season. I may be accented with flowers, ribbons, bows, barrettes.

Tennessee Pen Probe To Be Asked

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A grand jury will be asked to investigate conditions at the state penitentiary, where a former psychologist says inmates are subjected to "inhuman treatment."

William Bowden, only Negro member of the Davidson County grand jury, said he sent a telegram to foreman M. T. Gossett asking for a probe "of the entire situation" at the penitentiary, scene of much unrest in recent months.

Bowden's request came after Charles Cottle, the prison psychologist and classification officer, said he was fired for objecting to the "inhuman treatment," which, he says, has become common practice since July 26.

On that date, inmates set fire to two prison buildings and three inmates were shot. The outbreak came four months after two prisoners held 19 persons hostage a day and night in an unsuccessful escape attempt. It followed a week-long hunger strike by maximum security inmates.

After the fire, Gov. Buford Ellington ordered the prisoners stripped of virtually all their privileges, instituted a "get tough" policy and said a "Little Alcatraz" would be built for especially unruly prisoners.

Cottle said the other psychologist at the prison, Albert Balvere, was fired about two weeks ago and that the psychiatrist, Dr. A. M. Chapnick, has quit.

Asst. State Corrections Commissioner A. Patterson confirmed he fired Cottle Friday "for the good of the service."

Of the psychologist's charges, Corrections Commissioner Keith Hampton said: "That's his opinion."

Dear Abby...

It's Just One that Got Away

DEAR ABBY: My grandfather died at 96 and it was up to me to notify all the relatives so they could come to his funeral. I sent out 14 telegrams and made 5 long-distance calls. I couldn't contact a relative who lives in Omaha because he was up in Canada fishing, which was no fault of mine.

All this happened a year ago but I bring it up now because the will was read and the Omaha relative only got a dollar instead of $9500 because he wasn't at the funeral. Now he blames me. Was it my fault?

TRIED MY BEST
DEAR TRIED: If you tried your best and couldn't reach the fisherman, he shouldn't blame you. All he can do is write it off as a $9500 catch that got away.

DEAR ABBY: Please give your readers the lowdown—are you "Miss" or "Mrs."? Is that your picture and when was it taken? And while I'm getting personal, how old are you?

DEAR NOSY: I am MRS. and have been for 21 years (same man; I take my own advice). That picture is recent and I was 42 on July 4th.

DEAR ABBY: I got the shock of my life this morning when my ten-year-old daughter asked me a question about sex. I had no idea she knew as much as she did. I told her she was too young to know, which she certainly is.

I think this modern method of child-raising is all wrong. I mean telling children everything they want to know. I must be right because statistics show that every year more young girls are getting into trouble. I would like your opinion.

OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER
DEAR OLD-FASHIONED: Girls get into trouble because they knew too little—not too much. You're lucky your daughter comes to you with her questions. Don't discourage her with that foolish dodge, "You're too young to know". If she's old enough to ask, she's old enough to know.

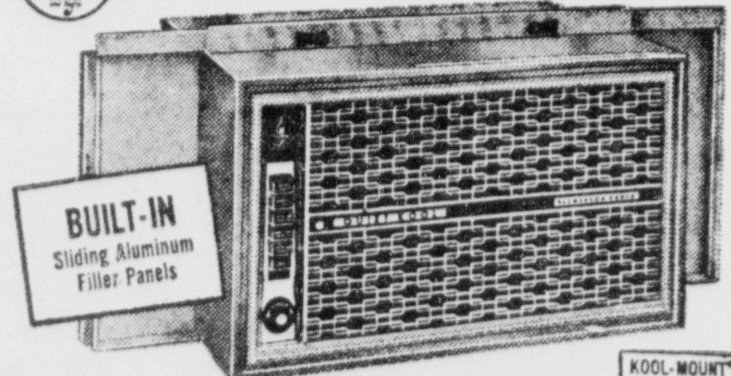

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

Little Loop Stars Trip Chilly, 6-3

Three home runs gave Circleville Little League All-Stars a 6-3 victory over Chillicothe Merchants in the opening game of the Washington C. H. Sesqui LL tournament last night.

Centerfielder Chet Hill drove in five runs with two line shot homers over the right field wall. Winning pitcher Buddy Strehle lashed a homer with none on to account for all Circleville runs.

The local All-Stars now meet the winner of the Hillsboro - Chillicothe Barrett game in a winner's bracket contest at 7:45 p. m. tomorrow at Washington's Wilson Field.

Circleville picked up the lead early, when Hill's homer brought home Terry Campbell who had walked. Three more were added in the third when Hill drove in Jim Diltz and Daryl Reichelderfer.

Diltz got on by a fielder's choice and Reichelderfer clipped a ground single through the box. Strehle's run came in the fifth, a towering blow over the left field fence, just a few feet from the foul line.

CHILICOTHE picked up its runs in the sixth when Tackett was safe on an error. DeLong singled, Minnix made it on another error and Hiesel walked, forcing Tackett home.

At this point manager Lee Smith replaced the tiring Strehle with fast-baller Bobby Dean. Dean whiffed the first man, then Dean scored on a ground out and then Dean struck out another man to end the rally.

U.S. Athletes Arrive in Rome

Track, Cage Teams
Beaming Confidence

ROME (AP)—Two of America's potential world-beating teams — track and basketball — arrive today on an Olympic Games scene churning with concern and expectancy.

Uncle Sam's tracksters and basketballers came belatedly from impressive exhibitions in Switzerland to join a powerful United States squad which hopes to spill the Soviet Union in the run for Olympic gold medals.

On two fronts United States stock was sent booming. On a third front, Nationalist China continued to object against its terminology as Taiwan in the games starting Thursday.

Enhancing the chances of the high-voltage American swimming squad was a report that a dozen Australian swimmers, including the famed John and Ilse Konrads, were hit by inflammation of the eyes in practice.

In a meeting of the International Olympic Committee, it was predicted Chicago's Avery Brundage would be re-elected president of the IOC, despite reported pressure favoring England's Lord Burghley for the top spot in international amateur sports.

The Aussies suffering a painful eye complaint—diagnosed as conjunctivitis—were ordered to take a two-day rest. That complicated their polishing off for the start of the swimming competition on Friday. This bolstered chances of the American splashes.

The IOC Monday decided to elect its president for a four-year term instead of the usual eight-year term, eliminating any restriction on the number of terms a man may serve. This paved the way for reelection of Brundage.

The IOC decided—after a day-long debate — that Nationalist China may enter an Olympic entry under the name of the "Olympic Committee of the Republic of China" but must compete as "Taiwan," its geographical location.

THE GLORY ROAD—It's Olympic Games time and as the nation's top athletes prepare for the opening of the event in Rome the camera revisits a bit of the past. Included in the winner's parade were Charley Paddock, who won the 100-meter event in 1920 in 10.8 seconds; Clarence Houser, the shot put winner in 1924 with a heave of 49 feet 2 1/2 inches; Jesse Owens, who won the 100 meters (10.3), the 200 meters (20.7), the broad jump (26.5 ft) and ran on the winning 400-meter relay team in 1936, and Bob Mathias, who won the decathlon in 1948 and again in 1952.

Chisox-Yankee Series Eyed As-Key to AL Flag Winner

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the Chicago White Sox are going to nail their second straight American League pennant, the time is now starting with tonight's opener of a two-game series in New York against the first place Yankees.

The White Sox are tied with Baltimore for second place, 1 1/2 games behind the Yankees—who have nothing but a week of worries ahead.

With the Western clubs making their last swing through the East, forgotten rain outs now come back to haunt the Yanks. The pitching-week leaders play eight games in six days, with three consecutive doubleheaders looming ahead.

After a run-in with southpaw Billy Pierce and right-hander Early Wynn, two old pros running hot for the White Sox, the Yankees have a day off Thursday, then play a two-night pair with Cleveland Friday, an afternoon doubleheader with the Indians on Saturday and a Sunday twinbill with Detroit.

While the Yankees are seeing double, the White Sox have a chance to go-go. After their two swipes at New York, the Sox go to Boston for two, then play two at Baltimore. The Orioles have three games with Detroit and two with Kansas City before the White Sox play at Baltimore Sunday and Monday.

As a would-be starting pitcher, Larry Sherry is a loser everytime he wins.

The young right-hander simply has proved too valuable in relief for the Los Angeles Dodgers to get a real shot as a starter. At the moment, he is their top winner, collecting his 13th victory with 7 1/3 innings of three-hit relief Monday night as the Dodgers came from behind to beat San Francisco 8-5.

With the top three clubs idle, the fourth-place Dodgers picked up a half-game but still trail first-place Pittsburgh by 8 1/2. They are .003 percentage points behind third-place St. Louis.

In the only other game Monday the Chicago Cubs whipped Cincinnati 6-3. The Cubs also handed Billy Martin, the Reds' second baseman, a $1,040,000 damage suit in the August 4 fracas that sidelined pitcher Jim Brewer with a broken cheek.

The Dodgers, trailing 4-2 after the Giants got rid of starter Don Drysdale in the second inning, took over with three runs in the third against loser Stu Miller, then counted the winning run in the fourth as Norm Larker singled for his third RBI. Larker, 3-for-4 in the Dodgers' 10-hit attack, padded his league leading average to .349. Gil Hodges homered for the final Dodger run in the seventh. It was his seventh of the season, the 352nd of his career. That broke a tie with Ralph Kiner as the NL's all-time champ among right-handed hitters.

The Cubs beat the Reds and Cal McLish (4-9) with four runs in the first inning. Three were unearned. Don Zimmer, who drove in three runs with a triple and double, and rookie Ron Santo, who had two doubles and a single, combined for five RBI. Bob Anderson (7-7) was the winning pitcher but needed relief help.

Leafs Near IL Crown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Check Tanner, a recent purchase from the Cleveland Indians, is money in the bank to the International League leading Toronto Maple Leafs.

Tanner drove in four runs Monday in the Leafs' 8-5 victory over Buffalo's Bisons, winning the game with a three-run homer in the eighth inning.

The Maple Leafs triumph reduced their magic number to seven. Any combination of seven Toronto victories and losses by the runner-up Richmond Virginians will bring the Leafs their fourth pennant in seven years.

The Vees fell 15 1/2 games off the pace by dropping a 7-6 decision to Montreal in the only other game scheduled.

The Asher horse, the betting favorite, returned $5.20, $3.10 and $2.60.

Martin Bat Booms, but Cubs Rap Reds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Billy Martin may be having his legal troubles with Chicago's Cubs, but when their pitches aren't close he seems to hit well enough.

The Cubs and their pitcher, Jim Brewer, served a summons on the Cincinnati Reds' second baseman before Monday's game, in a suit for $1,040,000 damages.

That didn't faze Martin who banged two doubles, driving in a pair of runs. His teammates did little to help out, however and Chicago beat the Reds, 6-3.

The suit stemmed from the fight between Martin and Brewer in the last game in Chicago between the two games, Aug. 4. Martin claimed Brewer was throwing at him. Brewer suffered an injured cheek bone.

The Cub pitchers were scrupulous in their deliveries Monday and not a throw even was close to being a brush-back pitch to Martin.

Martin first doubled in Cliff Cook, who had also doubled, in the fifth. Starter Bob Anderson was chased in the seventh when Martin delivered a double bringing in Jerry Lynch who forced Willie Jones.

Frank Robinson's 25th homer had started the Reds with a fourth inning marker.

The Cubs, however, had led the game in the first inning when they went to work on starter Cal McLish for four runs. Only one was earned.

Third flight Bob Harrod defeated Lloyd Wardell two up and Andy Anderson defeated Karl Herrmann 3-2.

Fourth flight — Jim Carr defeated Brian Bell 3-2. Quarter-finals in flight competition will be played this week.

2 Browns Rookies Get Pat from Chief

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Coach Paul Brown has shown his confidence in two Cleveland Browns rookies—prentice Gault and Jamie Caleb—by trading Bob Jarvis of Purdue to Green Bay.

The departure of the Cleveland boy to the Packers for a future draft choice was announced Monday. Caleb, from Grambling College, has been shifted to fullback behind Jim Brown and will work with the kickoff and punt return units.

Gault, the former fullback star at Oklahoma, has been working at left halfback, but having his troubles getting adjusted to the Cleveland style of play.

ON Tuesday Groveport will travel here for a practice session at 4 p. m. on the CHS gridiron.

Coach Benhase and his staff plan to divide the squad into three departments — a defensive unit, an offensive unit and a select group which has the ability to work both defense and offense.

Appropriate names have been selected for the units. The defensive group will be called "Bengals", the offensive "Go-Tigers" and two-way players "Streamlin' Demons".

Wearers of the "Streamlin' Demon" banner will be a versatile group which will be expected to carry the brunt of Tiger hopes. However, this unit will not completely overshadow the individual offense and defense experts.

The Circleville Football program roars into high gear today when 7th and 8th grade candidates report in the CHS gym at 7 p. m. for physical exams.

An orientation at 1 p. m. Friday follows and the first day of practice is set for the first day of school.

JUNIOR High Coach Paul Sarchet said equipment, recently purchased by the Circleville Booster Club, will be issued on the third day of practice.

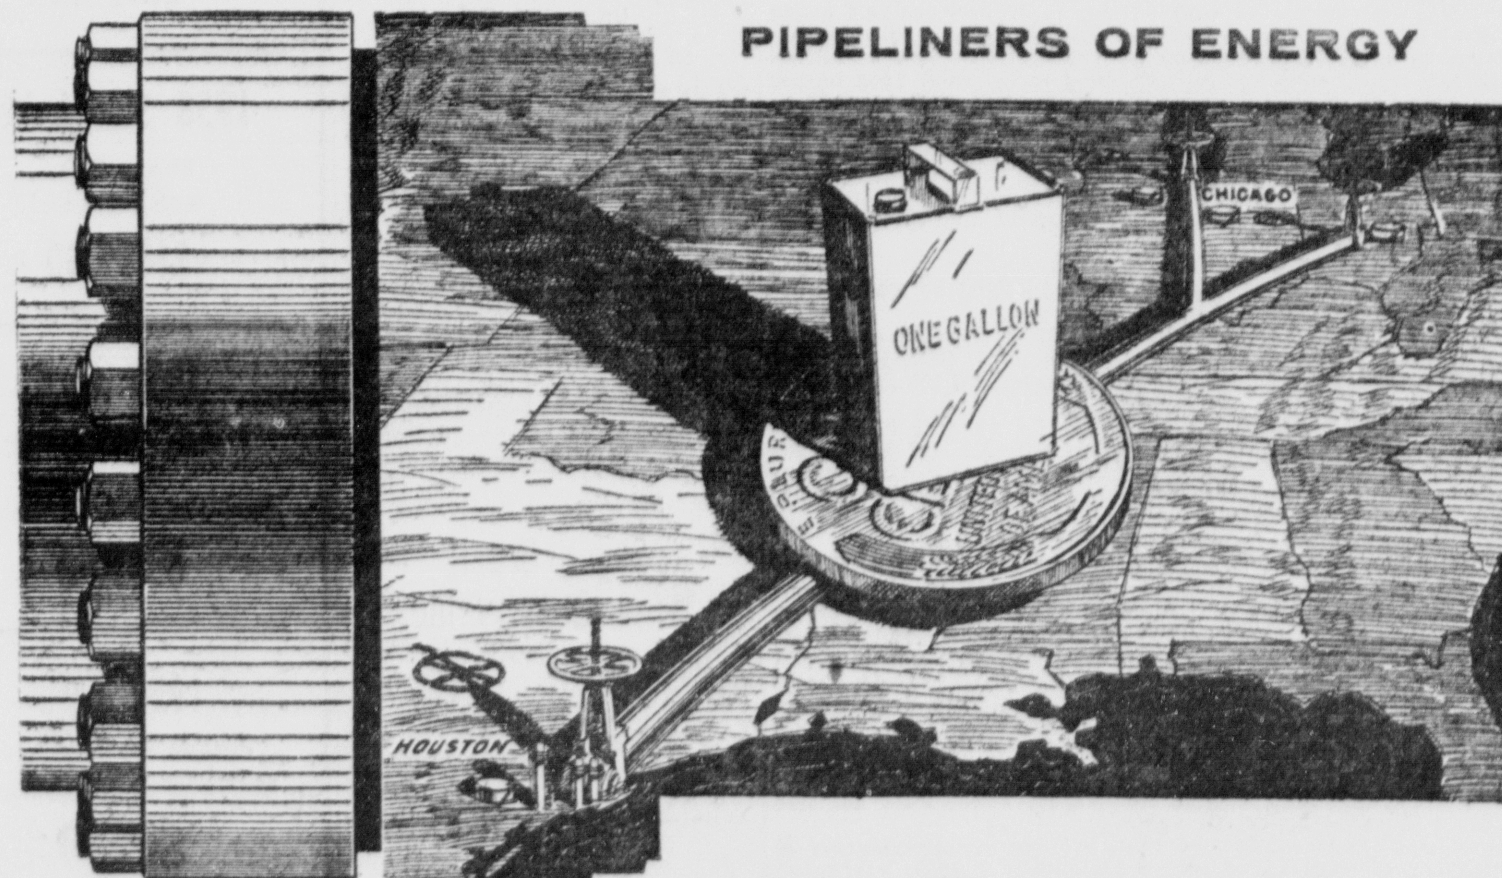

The local 7th and 8th graders will be participating in organized football for the first time. The yearling gridders open their season September 29 at Lancaster General Sherman, then crack the home gate October 6 against the same team.

Palmer Still Leads Pro Golf Entries

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., remains top man in professional golf's money winning category.

Palmer is in the lead with winnings of $73,600 this year, the Professional Golf Assn. headquarters announced.

Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla. is second with $38,900. In third place is Ken Venturi, Palo Alto, Calif. with $37,600.

PIPELINERS OF ENERGY

Economy of Pipeline Transportation

Pipelines in the United States are delivering natural gas, crude oil and refined oil products over long distances at surprisingly low costs.

As an example: one gallon of gasoline can be transported by Texas Eastern's Little Big Inch products pipeline from Houston to Chicago — a distance of 1125 miles — for one cent.

The economy of pipeline transportation is one of the major reasons why natural gas and petroleum products are now supplying over half of the country's energy requirements, and why demand for this form of energy is expected almost to double during the next 20 years.

Texas Eastern's role as a pipeline of energy is constantly being enlarged through the expansion of its 2000-mile Little Big Inch products pipeline system and its 6300-mile natural gas pipeline system.

Counter-Suit by Billy Martin
May Buck $1 Million Demand

CHICAGO (AP) — Brawling Billy Martin, the scrappy Cincinnati second-baseman who Monday was sued for $1,040,000 by the Chicago Cubs and rookie pitcher Jim Brewer, could be contemplating a counter-suit.

Martin indicated there was the possibility of a counter-suit after he was served with a notice shortly before Monday's game between the Redlegs and the Cubs at Wrigley Field.

The action stems from a brawl Aug. 4 in which Martin slugged Brewer, charging that the Cub pitcher was throwing at his head. The Cubs and Brewer, who has been hospitalized since being punched, are asking $260,000 each in actual damages and an additional $260,000 each in punitive damages.

Brewer, a 22-year-old from Broken Arrow, Okla., has had two operations involving the orbital bone of his right eye. Physicians say he's out for this year and that he is to stay away from all athletic activity during the winter which also means he cannot referee basketball this year.

Martin's first remark after being served with the notice was: "I wonder if they want this in cash or by check."

Later he indicated the possibility of a counter-suit, claiming that Brewer and the Cubs had endangered his career "because Brewer was throwing at my head. I have no doubt of that."

The complaint, filed in circuit court of Cook County, said Brewer suffered a loss in the opportunity to engage in professional baseball and therefore lost great earning power, has suffered bodily harm requiring hospitalization, operations and other extensive medical expense.

The club charges it has lost the valuable services of the pitcher for an indeterminate length of time and has suffered loss in his training, development and future services.

Following the battle in which other players were involved, Martin was suspended five days and fined $500 by National League President Warren Giles.

'A-Cemeteries' Closely Guarded

No Danger Is Seen In Radioactive Waste

WASHINGTON (AP)—Archaeologists, operators of bulldozers, and even tunnel-digging kids need have no fears of accidentally unearthing dangerous radioactive wastes buried underground in "atomic cemeteries."

All four present burial grounds for such nuclear garbage are in carefully fenced-in and guarded properties of the Atomic Energy Commission. They are located at Oak Ridge, Tenn.; Hanford, Wash.; Arco, Idaho; and Savannah River, S.C.

And all future sites, including possibly 10 or more regional sites in various parts of the country, will be on federally owned or state-owned property. Regulations call for close inspection and control to assure against any unauthorized digging in these hot-spot areas.

A further precaution is designed to protect employees at such sites against inadvertently digging into dangerous areas. The most dangerous kinds of buried waste are not only dumped into deep holes, but they're also covered by eight inches of concrete.

The AEC says its aim is to have strict federal or state control over such areas for "hundreds of years."

The kinds of radioactive waste being buried, or to be buried in the future, on land are known as "solid" wastes—as distinguished from wastes in liquid or gaseous forms.

The solid wastes—characterized by low or medium levels of radioactivity—consist of such things as contaminated machine turnings and other equipment. Also, contaminated trash, such as a piece of linoleum that might be contaminated by a "spill" of radioactive hot-stuff in a laboratory.

The most dangerous of all types of radioactive wastes are certain liquid-form wastes which result chiefly from the chemical processing of reactor products. These wastes are extremely radioactive and therefore are handled by a so-called "containment" method rather than by actual disposal. These wastes are stored in huge underground tanks having capacities up to a million gallons or more. And all such tanks are on closely guarded AEC properties.

Electricity Returns to Reno Area

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Electricity returned to western Nevada Monday night after shifting winds slowed forest fires that weary men were unable to hold.

The winds also cooled debris enough to allow repairs to restore disabled power lines, re-lighting Reno and the Lake Tahoe resort area.

Reno and 14 other Nevada cities had been without power since Sunday afternoon when spectacular blazes that cracked over 70,000 acres melted power lines.

Despite the restoration of power, rangers warned today that the same shifting winds could push the fires to new heights.

At Reno and lake front gambling houses featured roulette and blackjack by light from auxiliary generators.

During the 28 powerless hours, more than 90,000 persons were without electricity. A Sierra Pacific Power Co. crew worked its way through miles of ankle-deep ashes Monday to patch collapsed lines.

By 8:15 p.m. power was humming over the 120,000-volt line to the 15,000 square miles that were blacked out.

The biggest of the three major Sierra blazes, the one that knocked out Nevada electricity was 21 miles long and 3 miles across. It was north and west of Lake Tahoe, near the California town of Truckee.

Former Ohioan Confesses To Almost Perfect Murder

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Police said early today a 36-year-old salesman had confessed he rode a train to Pittsburgh, Pa., strangled his wife, then flew back.

Chief homicide detective Ted Botula of Allegheny County, Pa., said Robert Phillip Uhlmann had planned the most nearly perfect murder he had ever run into.

Uhlmann formerly lived in Kent, Ohio; his wife was from Lakewood, Ohio.

Botula said Uhlmann gave a statement, admitting the strangulation of his wife Sunday, after several hours of questioning Monday night.

Botula said Uhlmann left on a train at 1:30 a.m. Saturday and arrived in Pittsburgh about 24 hours later. He rode to his suburban house in a taxicab, Botula said, and instructed the driver to return in 20 minutes.

Uhlmann crawled through a window into the house, fearing a door-opening would rouse someone, Botula said, but he encountered his wife and they quarreled.

They were heard by the four Uhlmann children, who have told police of seeing their father in the house.

After the slaying—by knotting a nylon stocking around his wife's throat—Uhlmann met the cab driver and rode to the bus depot, Botula said. He rode a bus to Cleveland, Ohio, where he caught a plane to Memphis, Tenn., and then on to Little Rock.

He was arrested about an hour after he reached Little Rock on a warrant from Pennsylvania.

The detective said Uhlmann told him he went to Pittsburgh because he heard his wife was having an affair with another man. He said a .32 caliber pistol found when he was arrested had been taken along in case the man was at the house.

Little Rock police said two witnesses told about Uhlmann riding from the airport into Little Rock shortly before his arrest.

The body of Gloria Mae Uhlmann, 37, was found Sunday by the four children.

Uhlmann had denied the slaying repeatedly, saying he was fishing on a nearby lake Sunday morning.

A $600-a-month office furniture salesman, Uhlmann had told fellow workers he intended to move his family to Little Rock over the Labor Day holiday.

Ohio Solons Agree on Only One Roll Call

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio's two Democratic senators—Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young—voted the same way only once in five recent roll calls, the record indicates.

Both voted against an amendment to exempt employees of retail and service establishments from the minimum wage bill when the establishments have a dollar volume more than half of which is in intrastate commerce. The amendment, introduced by Sen. Holland (D-Fla.), was rejected 39-56.

Otherwise, the record shows: On Holland (D-Fla.) amendment, rejected 42-56, to make minimum wage bill provide that, except as otherwise provided by law, the secretary of labor shall have no power to regulate wage or hours of agricultural workers.

For—Lausche. Against—Young. On Dirksen (R-Ill.) amendment, rejected 39-54, to substitute for minimum wage bill a measure making minimum wage $1.15 an hour instead of $1.25, and covering fewer workers:

For—Lausche. Against—Young. On motion, adopted 50-48, to table Monroney (D-Okla.) amendment which would have limited minimum wage bill coverage of retail and service establishments to firms operating in more than one state:

For—Young. Against—Lausche. On passage, 62-34, of bill to raise minimum wage to $1.25 an hour and bring additional workers under wage hour law:

Film Spoofer Now Is in Films Himself

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rory Harrity is a handsome young actor starting in his first movie. But for him it's downright embarrassing.

He is a former editor of the Harvard Lampoon which, for years, has unmercifully rapped Hollywood's product and stars. "The Lampoon is fair," says Harrity, "because I can predict with certainty that I will get next year's worst actor award. I know that I can't miss, no matter whether I'm good or bad in the picture."

Harrity, like his father, was a writer—and a successful one. Then one night at a party, producer Joe Pasternak spotted his good looks and cast him in "Where the Boys Are."

With typical Hollywood logic, the studio suggested that he hire a voice coach.

"I told my father that I was paying $15 an hour to lose my Harvard accent and he blew his top. His comment was that he had spent $15,000 to help me acquire it."

Harrity was founder of the Lampoon's "Roscoe Award," first given to Elizabeth Taylor.

"I was on academic probation for a while so had to write under a pseudonym—Roscoe D. Hunge. Miss Taylor even came to Boston and accepted her Roscoe, given for 'so gallantly persisting in her career despite a total inability to act.'"

The city of Los Angeles covers more than 450 square miles.

Pre-School Health Clinic Planned for Noon Tomorrow

Health clinic for pre-school youngsters will be at noon tomorrow in Franklin Street School.

It is for prospective first graders. According to state law all children who enter school must have a complete physical examination and immunizations.

Sometimes parents wonder: "Why should I have my children immunized against diseases?"

The answer is clear and certain: Immunization prevents disease and protects lives.

Here are some figures, drawn from the records of the Ohio Department of Health, that show the effectiveness of immunization:

In 1930, there were 5,116 cases of smallpox in the state. And in 1918, there were more than 10,000. But for nearly a decade now, no cases of smallpox have been reported.

AS FOR diphtheria, there were 17,847 cases reported in 1921, the peak year of the century. That same year the diseases claimed 1,075 lives. But in 1958, 14 cases were reported, with three lives lost. Comparable figures could be produced for polio, tetanus, and whooping cough (pertussis).

These dramatic reductions have been due, in large measure, to the widespread practice of immunization. Public health authorities agree that if immunization were abandoned (Heaven forbid!), THESE DISEASES would return—again taking hundreds, thousands of lives.

That immunization really works was shown a few short years ago in the polio epidemic in Chicago. In the epidemic areas, all too few of the children had had polio shots. The epidemic's back was broken, however, when mass immunization was undertaken.

To be absolutely certain our children are protected against dangerous disease, the Ohio Legislature in the 1959 session enacted a law requiring that proof of immunization be presented before a child enters school.

The compulsory immunization law went into effect with the opening of the school year last September.

Nowadays, most children are immunized by their family physicians, beginning shortly after birth. This is important because infants and small children do not have adequate defenses against disease.

So if your children have not been immunized against disease, the time to start is now.

U.S. Businessman Held In Cuba Sans Charge

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban authorities continued to hold an American businessman without charge today.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman blamed the arrest on a "foulup" but did not elaborate.
